Co-op expansion gets underway

Work began Monday on a 3860 square foot addition to the St. Paul and District Co-op's Elk Point store. Langevin Builders Ltd. of St. Paul was awarded the contract for the project, which will have a total cost of approximately $400,000.

The addition will provide space for extra showcases in the frozen foods, meat, dairy and produce sections, plus four more grocery aisles, a fourth checkout counter with provision for a fifth, and relocated office facilities. Another walk-in cooler, walk-in freezer and an extension to the existing walk-in meat cooler will also be part of the expansion program.

Co-op Manager Rodger McLaughlin says the additional shelf and showcase space will ease congestion and make shopping more convenient, as well as allowing more products to be displayed. "We just haven't had room to stock them in the present space," he commented.

Shoppers will be subjected to some inconvenience during the construction period, but McLaughlin says every effort will be made to minimize the difficulties, and hopes that customers will "bear with us". The store will remain open throughout the building program, although the east access door will be closed off. Town Council agreed with a request to have a loading zone designated on the west side of the store to facilitate grocery pickup, and McLaughlin says that his staff is gearing up for additional order delivery for the in-town customers.

Planning for the addition started two years ago, as Elk Point's population increased and the store, built in 1978, showed signs of overcrowding. Although sales have dropped since oil activity in the area has been severely cut back and also since Whitney Lake's former campground has been designated for day use only, it was decided to carry on with the expansion and to be ready for the increased customer load when the oilpatch gets back to normal and development of overnight campsites at Whitney Lake is complete.

READY TO START — Contractor Paul Langevin shake hands over the plans for the 3860 square foot store addition.

Town studies project financing

Creative approaches to financing the Town of Elk Point's capital projects for 1986 came under intensive discussion at Monday night's regular meeting of Town Council.

Committed and proposed projects were outlined along with their price tags, and ways to come up with the necessary cash were suggested. Council voted to submit a package detailing the financial requirements for saving and utility upgrading to the local Authorities Board to determine if sufficient funding is available through debenture borrowing.

Also under council study was the possibility of damming Atimoswe Creek to increase the municipal raw water supply. One possibility is to combine the dam with the soon-to-be upgraded Highway 646 crossing the creek. The Town will advise Alberta Transportation of the present status of discussions and that they are considering soil testing of the proposed site in the immediate future if this is feasible.

Council agreed to pay Cicon Engineering for $6000 in additional engineering services required on Phase II of the water treatment plant. They also discussed the options of boring and open-cutting as a means of crossing Highway 646 with the water supply line, and agreed that open cutting would be the least costly, although the County of St. Paul requires a $2500 non-refundable fee for permitting this excavation. Council decided to inquire why this fee is necessary.

Council planned to meet yesterday with Doug Jeremy of Alberta Environment to review the agreement for funding of drainage improvements outlined in the Level I Report which have been undertaken by the Town.

An engineering error which resulted in wrongly located curb and gutter in front of the A.G. Ross Arena, will be left as is, with the engineering firm paying $2175 in compensation to the Town for the error. The County of St. Paul will pay $2100 toward sidewalks and driveway paving adjacent to F.G. Miller High School and Elk Point Elementary School.

An engineering proposal on a proposed street upgrading program was tabled for later consideration.

Council moved to purchase two lots of raw land for expansion of the Public Works yard at a total cost of $5910. This is somewhat higher than the budgeted cost of $4600, but reflects the accumulated interest and costs arising from areas dedicated for roadways in the Industrial Subdivision.

Several development issues were on Council's agenda. Esso Petroleum Canada has responded to the Town's request that their property be developed within the next ten months by proposing that the Town repurchase the land or that Esso list the property for sale. The Town is taking steps to insure that the conditions of the development agreement will be transferred to any future purchaser.

Council approved a request by WRD Borger Construction for an

Canada Day committee plans ahead for 1987

Next Tuesday's wrap-up meeting of the Canada Day Committee will also see the beginning of plans for the 1987 celebration.

Next year will mark the eightieth anniversary of settlement in the Elk Point area and plans are already afoot to commemorative activities with the Canada Day festivities. Input from interested parties is eagerly solicited, and anyone with ideas to put forth is cordially invited to attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m. on July 22 in the Community Services Centre.

Clandonald News

By Shirley Osinchuk
Clandonald Correspondent

The weather seems to be the main topic of conversation again. Any day now the sun will shine and we can go ahead with summer.

The only sports news is that the childrens' soccer team is still meeting to practise on Thursdays at 7 p.m. The coach is Stan Stafford.

One of the pioneers of the Landonville area, Mr. Harold Dorey, passed away in Victoria on June 24, 1986. He was born on March 21, 1882, homesteaded in Landonville in 1906, then retired to Victoria, B.C. some years ago. Mr. Dorey was 104 years old. Our condolences to Mrs. Betty West of Vermilion and Mr. Geoff Dorey of Landonville and all his many relatives and friends.

The Fish and Game meeting will be on Thursday, July 17, at 8 p.m. in the Hall with a guest speaker from "Ducks Unlimited".

Gerald Brady and Eugene Michael are winners of the Agricultural Society Lottery.

Ever since Hazel Kada named the Clandonald Country Fair in 1977, there has been a hard working group planning and expanding Clandonald's annual fair.

The dates this year are Friday and Saturday, August 8 and 9, with the theme "The New and the Old". On Friday, all entries for the bench show are brought in, arranged and judged. Fair day itself begins with a pancake breakfast, cooked and served by the Board of Trade, from 7:30 to 11:00.

The parade entries meet at the Hall and line up under the direction of Ed and Lori Podhaniuk, and Lester and Carrie Goldsmith. The arena will be opened after the parade for viewing the entries of gardening, crafts, cooking, sewing, grains and school work.

There will be a full day of activities, including bingo, tug of war, horseshoe tournament, ball game, kids' races, concession, fiddler's contest, and lots of friends to visit.

Remember that there are many hours of planning going into this two days of Fair. The next planning meeting is on Monday, July 21, in the Hall at 8 p.m. Please come to offer your assistance.

Fair Fiddler's contest

By Shirley Osinchuk
Clandonald Correspondent

This year, for the third year, fiddlers are invited to compete at the Clandonald Country Fair. On Saturday, August 9, at 2 p.m., in the arena, the fiddling will be great. This is one of the most popular events at the fair. Last year's entrants ranged in ages from 7 to 65 years.

Last year's winners were Anne McKy, age 15, from Flinstone, Sask. and Joseph Hertz, age 7, from Derwent, Alta in the Junior Division. Senior winners were Fred Scott from Flinstone, Sask., Jim St. Germaine from Wetaskiwin, Alta. and Harry Stelmaschuk from Mannville, Alta.

This year the contestants will be divided into Junior, up to age 15; Intermediate, ages 16 to 50; and Senior, ages 51 and over. Nine trophies will be awarded, three in each level.

Each fiddler must play one fast piece and one slow, and may have one accompanist.

The time again is 2 p.m., Saturday, August 9, in the arena. If you don't play the fiddle, come and enjoy the music.

Contact Matt Harasiuk at 853-2671 to enter the Fiddler's Contest, or for more information.

SECOND — BUT THEY TRIED HARDER — Squeeze Play was squeezed out in the final game against the Smurfs. Back row, L-R: Doug Fisher and son, Mike Scott, Rodney Pacholek, Joe Serniak, Rhon-

Smurfs win spring slowpitch league finals

Elk Point's spring slowpitch season came to an end last Tuesday evening when the Smurfs defeated Squeeze Play 6 to 2 in a hard-hitting final game.

A large and enthusiastic crowd was on hand for the game, which had been delayed from the previous Thursday by rain.

The Elk Point Slowpitch league got underway in late May, with seventeen teams in two divisions. The top four teams in each division began playoffs in late June, with the Smurfs taking that division with victories over the Hillsiders and E-Can, who in turn defeated Tarsands. In the other division, BMW defeated the Hooters, then lost to the Squeeze Play crew, who had defeated Porta.

Slowpitch organizer Jack Tarnowski reported that more slowpitch action will soon be underway with all summer league games taking place on the newly fenced diamond north of the A.G. Ross Arena.

Renovated Town Office scene of open house

By Mildred Dunham
Ferguson Flats Correspondent

The Elk Point Town Office has been newly renovated, and on June 30 the Council and staff served coffee and donuts to guests to mark the occasion.

The building used to be partly used for the municipal library while the remaining part served as the town office. After the new library was built, measures were taken to renovate the whole building for the town office.

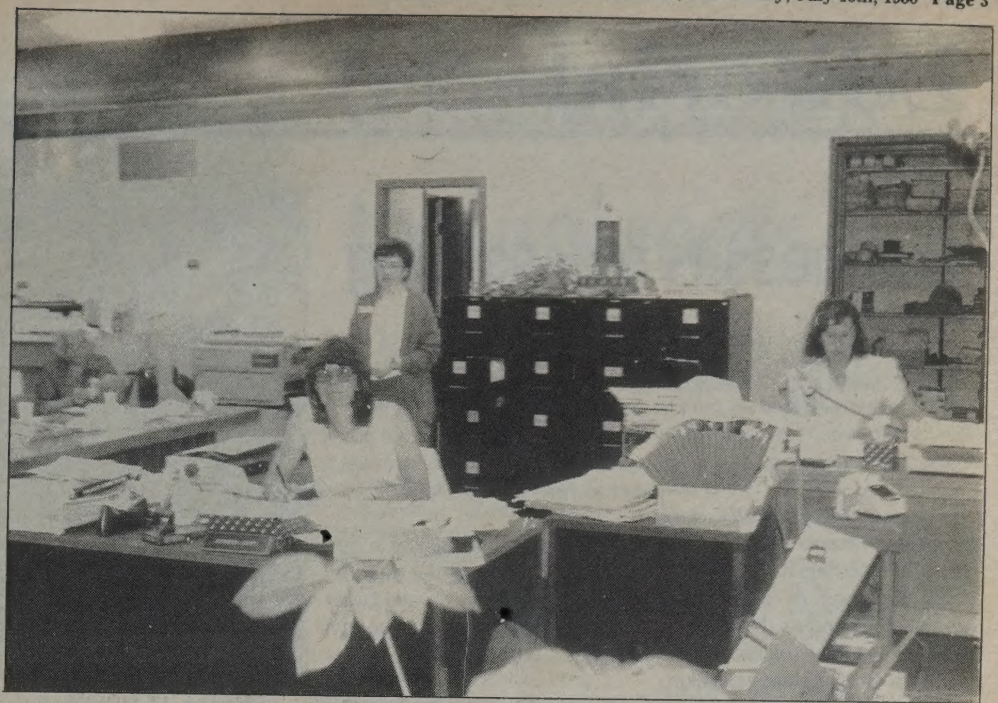

The building now has a separate council chamber, a fitting location for this important group. People dealing with the legislative body from different parts of the provincial government now have a private place to meet with council. The renovations also provided council with the necessary additional room to conduct their meetings in comfort. This creates a different atmosphere for the staff as well.

There is now a small special office where members of council may store their minutes and other important papers in files. A new computer system was installed as well as a vault in which to store municipal records. There is a new council table, new carpet and the place has been freshly painted.

People coming to the town office now use the west door instead of the east door except those coming to council meetings.

The staff, consisting of Pat Vincent — municipal administrator, June Stone — secretary, Jenny Scott — administrative clerk and accounts payable, and Ellen Seward — clerk typist, are very happy with the changes. They feel it was too casual before.

ROOMY OFFICE — provides pleasant working conditions for the Town of Elk Point's office staff.

COMFORT FOR COUNCIL — relaxing chairs and large "U" shaped Council table will make those marathon meetings seem much shorter.

HAS needs more employers

With more young people in the Elk Point area registered than ever before for summer employment, Hire-A-Student's Elk Point office is finding themselves very short of potential employers.

Students are not only available to take on full time jobs, they are ready and willing to help with all the little tasks you have been postponing and can be hired by the hour, day or week, and at short notice.

Need your garage cleaned, your garden weeded, your firewood cut, your fence painted? Do you need a sitter for your children, or someone to look after pets or plants while you vacation? Students registered with the Odd Job Squad are available for all these jobs and more.

Call Greg Roszell or Koreen Trefanenko at 645-6019 for more details. They'll be waiting to hear from you.

Saddle Slickers 4-H report

By Shaun Blize
Club Reporter

Since my last report we the Elk Point 4-H Saddle Slickers have had several meetings. We learned to clip our horses safely and properly. We learned how to lead and lunge horses. We have been riding and training our horses in Aarbo's arena. They have a trail course set up to begin practise on.

We would like to thank Marian Ryan from Dewberry who came to our June 12, 1986 meeting to show us different ways of training and controlling our horses.

We all met at Hughie Krucik's June 19, 1986 and made 1200 flowers for our float.

Those that could, met June 29 and 30 to work on the float. Thanks to all that helped and a special thanks to Ken Aarbo for the use of his truck.

Thanks to Ivan Marcoux for driving.

We are very proud and thank the Lioness Club for the 1st place ribbon and accompanying prize monies.

Our meeting on July 10, 1986 was held to discuss our achievement day, which was tentatively set for early in September. We thank Adele Reichert from Vermilion and Becky Lore from St. Paul for attending our meeting.

The next meeting is Thursday, July 17, 1986 at Jackie Aarbo's.

Ron Chrapko of Park Lane Investments will be invited to attend Council's next regular meeting to discuss his problems regarding curb, gutter, sidewalk and pavement installation in the mobile home subdivision.

Businesses blossoming

The oil patch may be going to seed and summerfallow, but in Elk Point's retail business community, things are blossoming.

In recent weeks, three new businesses have opened their doors, while others have moved to larger premises or added new lines of merchandise. This week's beginning on the expansion of the Co-op store is another indication.

All farmers know that when you have a crop failure, or the bottom line of prices drops even further down, you don't immediately sell the farm. You grumble, and gripe, and predict catastrophe, but down deep, you know that there is a better year coming -- sometime.

These local merchants are getting ready for that better year, by weeding out, fixing up and trying new "crops" of merchandise and services.

We wish them all a bumper crop of profits for their efforts, and for having faith in the future growth of Elk Point and district.

Can't get enthusiastic about painting the back fence? Haven't got time to hack through the underbrush that used to be your lawn? Tired of waiting for your basement to become self-cleaning?

Hire a student!

Numerous young people in Elk Point and area are hoping to find gainful employment this summer, and have registered with the Hire-A-Student office. However, it seems that all the potential employers have become resigned to a summer of do-it-themselves drudgery.

Don't they know that there's a season full of fun and enjoyment out there, which they will miss out on if they spend the next six weeks pulling weeds, cleaning closets and riding herd on the kids?

In the words of the familiar radio commercial, you deserve a break today -- and you won't have to feel a bit guilty about taking time out if you have a student -- or two, or three, -- taking care of all those things that you'd rather not do anyway.

Why not give these young people a chance at the job market, and yourself time to enjoy summer?

Alberta Trails lead home from BC

By Irene Magnusson

Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head

- And all over the garden, the lawn and the fairy rings, and on the moldy strawberries. So I must wait to give them all the treatments they so well deserve. It is utterly amazing how things have grown in the past four weeks. I probably would never notice all this so much if I hadn't been away.

Beautiful British Columbia is a heaven on earth, and it well may have everything, as the giant film in the B.C. Pavilion of Expo '86 states, but I was very happy to see the green, green - and very wet - grass of home. Not to take anything away from B.C., it is surely the most beautiful of our provinces, but I must be a prairie chicken at heart, and those big flat fields of green and gold and black, laid out in their checker-board patterns, growing larger as the plane came down toward the airstrip.

Edmonton's streets and roadsides looked rather scruffy and ill-kept, bare and weedy, after the clean swept, super green, shaved lawns of Vancouver, and the flowers, flowers, flowers everywhere, topped by shrubs and trees of every shape. Some have been pruned and shaped to suit the grower, but many shrubs have very definite shapes and sizes, and few of them look like poplar trees.

They have had some tent caterpillars chomping around in B.C., but I didn't see any place where everything was stripped bare, as we get here, mostly, I suppose, because there is such a variety of growth. It cannot all be palatable to the little creepy-crawly critters.

Other parts of B.C. may have a different outlook - I can only speak of Vancouver and Vancouver Island, where I travelled. The better part of one day was spent at the beachside home of a family who have lived the past year not too far from Sidney, on Patricia Bay. The house they rented was at the top of a series of stairs, three flights in all, that climbed up the hillside from the beach below, where only a couple of rods were left bare when the tide came in.

Of course, I had to go down, with the kids, and wander on those rocks when the tide subsided. There were the usual sticks and a couple of logs, and as the water receded, shells, mostly clam shells, a few mussels complete with barnacles, and some thin orange crab shells, too delicate to collect. I followed the water down, more and more shells appeared, then I saw one I thought I liked in shallow water under the edge of a very large rock. I clung to the rock and reached for it, then suddenly noticed a prickly purple body wedged into a crevice in the rocks, about three feet long - or so it appeared. I backed off and studied it for a moment or two.

Not a sea serpent, the old cranium decided, but a whole string of star-fish, tucked up into the crack for a snooze - or whatever starfish engage in. Then I realized there were other colors besides the purple, orange, brown, tan, and various size 'arms' hanging out.

Thinking they would disappear as soon as they noticed the sea had subsided and left them uncovered, I huffed and puffed my way as fast as I could up those 65 steps to the kitchen, to get my camera and call someone to come and have a look. No one else was excited, they had seen them often, and they would stay there until the tide came swishing back in a few hours, so sit down and have a sandwich and tea. I was glad to sit awhile!

Down we went again, my son Melvin, my cousin's husband and their two sons and myself. I was surprised to see several starfish lying on the gravel above the waterline, seemingly quite content to take a scorching. (Oh, I must say, this was a bright hot sunny day. Super-summer!).

Richard picked one up to show me its undersides, which was fairly white, with little spines sticking out all along the sides, and stuck to some gravel and sand and seaweed. Completely unmoving, the creature could have been a block of driftwood. I know they must move, and voluntarily at that, else how did they get all wedged up in the crack between the rocks?

I crouched over them, and took a few pictures, although they do not show up too well on the rocky beach. Among the two dozen or so we saw in that small area, we also saw several jellyfish, a clear blob of whatever, that looks like clear water, gone to jelly. I could see no limbs, head, mouth or means of transportation. Apparently they just 'blob'.

My good and useful books tell me the starfish is an 'echinoderm', of the class Asteroidea, having five or more arms, which have tiny tubes protruding from the undersides and ends, rather like fingers or toes, and no doubt these are used to cling to rocks, or sand, and also to catch its food with, mainly mollusks, including oysters.

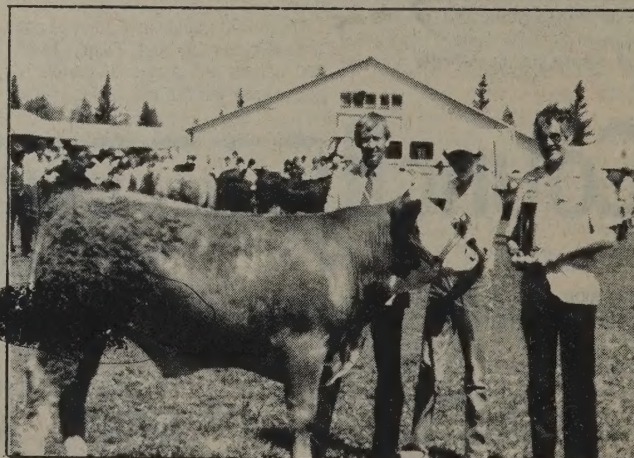

The mouth is centered in the underside of the body, and this book says they are found in the Atlantic, but they probably forgot to look in the Pacific, where the southern end of Vancouver Island definitely lies.

My starfish are also related to a variety called brittle stars with very short 'arms' and all are denizens of the deep and salty sea. Starfish are able to reproduce lost arms, my book also says.

On so many days of my west coast visit the clouds hung low, the winds blew, and raindrops kept falling on my head. (No, I did not get in the habit of twirling an umbrella over my head, and I never shrank an iota, darn it, but I surely had a good time.) On other days the sun shone bright, folks started complaining about the heat, and watering their grass, and running around in shorts.

Now here I am at home, watching the rain streak down, my garden turn into a moat, the toadstools fairly squirting from the ground, the roads probably turning to potholes and slops. Sunny Alberta acting like it doesn't know its own reputation!

While others said they were from beautiful British Columbia, La Belle Province, wonderful Ontario or Down Under - I was bragging I am from Sunny Alberta. Ha. Well, tomorrow is another day, and at least our land is stable, not rocking to and fro, and I'm sure the sun will shine again ... soon.

O'Kane, homesteaded by their father in 1912.

O'Kanes return to rural roots

Four generation of the O'Kane family gathered at the Elk Point area farm of Ed and Jim O'Kane for a family reunion in the first week of July.

O'Kane descendants came from Minnesota, Missouri, British Columbia and southern Alberta to the land homesteaded in 1912 by Henry James O'Kane, father of the present owners, three miles north and two miles east of Elk Point.

For Catherine Flagel of Trail, B.C., Rosella Hubka of Claresholm, Alta., and Mary Demers of Kamloops, B.C., daughters of Henry and Anna O'Kane and sisters of Ed and Jim, it was coming home. For their 97 year old uncle John L. O'Kane of Bellechester, Minnesota and cousins Richard, John and Hugh O'Kane of St. Paul, Minn., Lucille Miller of Mazzeppa, Minn., and Rose Faste of Kansas City, Missouri, as well as the numerous children, grandchildren and spouses of both family lines, it was a time to get to know their relatives, talk over old times and make new memories.

Although the weather was less than cooperative, even sending the gathering to a local motel to escape a downpour one evening at dinnertime, the group enjoyed horseback riding, hay rides and bonfires between the showers.

One member of the Minnesota branch of the family, Hugh O'Kane, combined the family visit with a promotional tour for a book which he says has changed his life since he first read it in 1958. "The Gift of Courage," is a collection of talks given by Paul Speicher, a sales motivation speaker who died in 1950.

O'Kane wife, Monisa Lauen O'Kane, author of "Living With Adult Children", is the owner of Diction Books, a Minneapolis publishing company which recently bought the rights to this long out-of-print, inspirational volume. O'Kane, vice-president of an investment firm, has written an introduction which tells of the worthwhile role Speichers' writings have played in his life. En route to the family reunion, O'Kane gave interviews to radio stations and newspapers in Edmonton promoting the book.

By Sgt. Jim Fell
R.C.M.P.

We have just completed our traffic collision analysis for the Elk Point District for 1985 and I thought you might find some of the statistics of interest.

Our worst month for collisions was October; this can be attributed to our first snow fall and the hazardous road conditions. This always seems to be true year after year — the first snow fall always brings many collisions — people appear to have forgotten how to drive on slippery roads.

Our worst day of the week for accidents is Sunday; I would remind you that that includes Sunday at 12:01 a.m. just after Saturday night. I would suggest that liquor is likely the major contributing cause.

Our worst time of the day is between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.; this is of course the business day and there is a great deal of vehicular traffic moving around, ie, shopping, school, work, etc.

Our worst age group — contrary to popular opinion — is between 36 and 65 years of age. We are continuously on our young people about their driving but when we look at statistics it appears to be Mom and Dad who bend up the fenders. Better have a good look at your driving habits!

The major CAUSE of collisions in the Elk Point district is driving too fast for road conditions. This does not mean speeding in excess of speed limits, it means travelling too fast for existing road conditions and can include gravel, snow and ice, mud, ruts, etc. Just because the speed limit says you can travel at 80 km/hr on country roads, doesn't mean you have to, especially when you know it is dangerous. I think many of us are just in too much of a hurry.

The worst area for accidents is within 16 km (10 miles) of Elk Point. This stands to reason as Elk Point is the Commercial and Social Center of the district and it stands to reason that because of the larger population there would be more activity.

We have planned out some strategies to attempt to combat the collision situation. These will include an increase in the number of check stops, an increase in the use of Radar, and the use of the "Clean Roof" no lights bar, Police Cars. I would much prefer the motoring public improve their own driving habits rather than us having to go to strict enforcement. Maybe we can compromise.

Have a safe week.

Dewberry News Roundup

By Cliff Cunningham
Dewberry Correspondent

The antique auction sale in the Dewberry hall on June 27 drew a large crowd with three auctioneers. It was put on by D. Garnier's Auction Service. Three prizes were drawn for during the sale. Your news reporter won a large basket of fruit on the last draw.

Dever and Lenora Deford, Peggy and Eric Elliott have been out on a three day visit at Expo '86 in Vancouver and report having a nice trip. Some of their sight seeing were B.C. and Ontario pavilions, Saskatchewan's 17 story high sight seeing elevator, California, Oregon, Japan, China and the North West Territories and others were all good. You have to wait in some line up's for 1 1/2 hours, so take your lawn chair if you go out to Expo '86. They also went on the Ferry along Expo coast line and to Victoria Butchart flower gardens. As the cherries were getting ripe they picked some on their way home.

Regarding last weekend's reunion, I have a telepost received from Viriden, Manitoba which says "Happy reunion. Unable to attend. Best wishes to all. Joyce Rushton." (Teacher - Miss Kay, 1946-47) Some of you might remember her.

There was a large crowd at the Greenlawn Old Timers picnic on July 1st. The weather was good and 1,163 people paid admission at the gate. That didn't include the children 12 yrs and under. In the horse racing there was 20 chariots and 9 chuckwagons, I never found out the name of the winners. They just seem to disappear after the races. There were several horse pulling teams with Henry Bretton taking 1st prize; Ivor Lyster, 2nd and Bruce Etherington, 3rd. In the ladies 1/2 mile foot race Patricia Holmen won first place and in the mens 1/2 mile race Rick Hozak won first. There were several mens ball teams with Tulliby Lake, first; Clandonald, 2nd; Vermilion, 3rd and Rusylvia, fourth.

We are putting on a pot-luck supper and Old Timers Dance for our new and old friends and relatives in the Dewberry hall August 30th, come and help me celebrate my 80th birthday. I will not be writing any more Dewberry news after August 21st which is my 80th birthday. Look for more information in the Vermilion Standard and Elk Point paper later on.

We are getting lots of rain this last three days also very strong winds. High 82 above F and low 45 above F. So far we have got 2 inches of rain these last 3 days.

Library news

New books increase library selections

Thanks to the generous offer from FCSS, the librarian has been able to order several family related selections. Hopefully some of the new books discussed in this article will be of interest to you.

Alcoholism is a very widely discussed topic but little attention has been paid to a special group of sufferers - the adult children of alcoholics. Janet Wortitz has written a self-help guide titled "Adult Children of Alcoholics" which is not at the library.

Judy Blume has written many books for young people as well as two novels for adults. As a result of her popularity she has received many letters, especially from young people, who wish to share their lives with her. In "Letters to Judy", she addresses teen problems hoping that parents will read the book and gain a better understanding of their teenagers.

Have you ever wondered what has happened to our society's value of discipline? Have you, the parent felt your discipline strategies were not working? If such concerns are yours, read "Dare to Discipline" written by Dr. James Dobson.

Two other books on the topic of discipline are "Tough Love" and Dr. Kiley's unusually titled book "Keeping Parents Out Of Trouble".

Many working moms feel that they are guilty of violating the ideal standard of mothering. Barbara Berg, in her book "The Crisis of the Working Mother", enables women to see beyond the problems of the dual roles to exhilarating possibilities without making them feel they must be superwoman.

There are also several new books for parents of young children: Help Me Say It - A Parent's Guide to Speech Problems, Raising Brighter Children and what every parent of a young child has been waiting for "Toilet Learning" by Alison Mack.

There are several other new titles in and there are many more on order. If you have any family-related concerns that you wish to see written material on, we would be more than happy to receive your suggestions. Till next time - Happy Reading!

Alberta farm credit stability act passed

By John Drobot, M.L.A.
St. Paul Constituency

The Alberta Legislature resumed sitting after the brief Canada Day recess. Canada Day was celebrated in several points in the constituency. I had the pleasure of taking part in the Elk Point Canada Day celebrations which is always a very patriotic and gala occasion.

I have been appointed to three government Caucus Committees. I now sit on the committee for Agriculture, for Education and Social Services as well as Standing and Special Committees on Private Bills and Legislative Offices. Members of these committees are responsible for reviewing and initiating ideas concerning these departments of government. Caucus Committees are a vital part of the government decision-making process. I look forward to participating on these committees, because each one deals with an area of particular interest for the constituents of St. Paul.

I had previously mentioned the government's intention to proceed with the Alberta Farm Credit Stability Program as soon as possible. This program is designed to provide farmers with long-term fixed rate financing. On Friday, June 27th, the Farm Credit Stability Fund Act was introduced as the first step to get this program underway.

Application forms and brochures are being prepared and will be available very soon. Further details can be obtained from conventional lenders or at your nearest AADC office.

The key elements of the Program are as follows:

Maximum Loan Amounts

$200,000 per farm family; $600,000 for partnerships or corporations based on a number of farm families actively involved; these limits include loans by AADC.

Loan Term

20 years, except where borrower requests a shorter term

Re-payment Options (as agreed by borrower and lender)

borrower may pre-pay in whole or in part anytime without penalty equal blended principal and interest payments; equal principal payments, plus interest on the declining balance

Interest Rate

9% per annum

Loan Purposes

to re-finance or consolidate farm debt existing on July 1st, 1986; to acquire, construct or improve land, buildings, fixed machinery and equipment. However, the following purchases will be excluded:

acquiring, constructing or improving residences (except where purchased as part of acquiring a farm); acquiring automobiles and 1/2 and 3/4 ton trucks

Re-payment Ability (the main lending consideration)

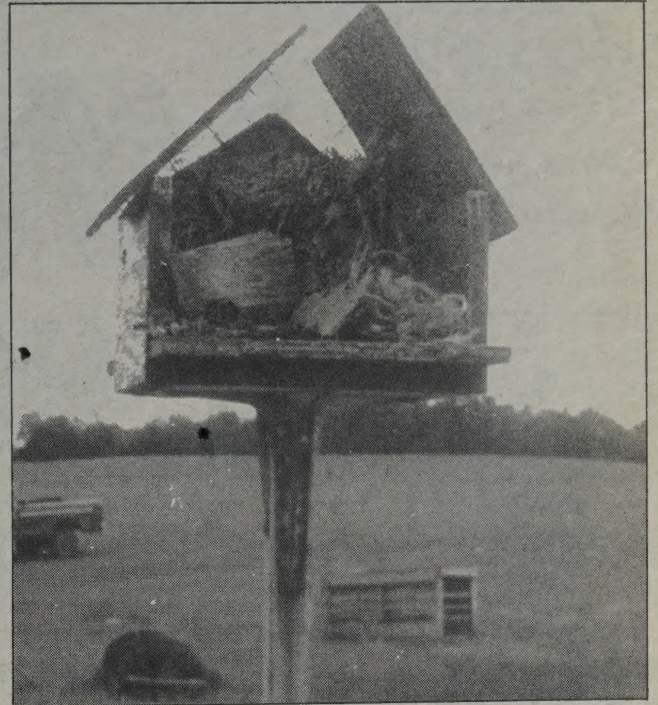

the borrower will have to demonstrate the ability to re-pay the debt

Government Loan Guarantees

the Province of Alberta will share the risk of loans made under the program with lenders by providing appropriate guarantees

The Alberta Farm Credit Stability Program is a major element of our province's agriculture assistance package. I look forward to the program's speedy implementation.

Please feel free to phone me if you have any questions or concerns. My constituency office number is 645-2668 (St. Paul, Monday & Tuesday) and 724-3926 (Elk Point, Wednesday) or call me in Edmonton directly through the R.I.T.E. operator at 427-1833. I look forward to hearing from you.

ZAPPED! — this birdhouse on the Dunham farm was the victim of a lightning bolt recently. Fortunately, no feathered friends were home at the time.

Out our way

By Mildred Dunham
Ferguson Flats Correspondent

I haven't done too well in my search for news the last while. The weather has dampened my will as well as the ground. However, it's nice to see all the moisture and the pastures so green after years of drought.

The Ferguson Flats annual picnic was cancelled for the first time in many years because of the passing of Arnold Ockerman, a relative and friend to everyone out our way. Arnold and his family were the main push for all social functions and activities in the Ferguson Flats area for many years. His passing will affect the lives of everyone in the district and he will be sadly missed. His brother, Carl Ockerman is also in hospital and friends and relatives wish him a speedy recovery.

Spring Park had a fiftieth anniversary party for Neil and Dorothy Edwards from New Mexico. They were residents of the district at one time and many people braved the muddy roads to attend.

Primrose way, a bolt of lightning destroyed a bird house on a post near our trailer about a week ago which gave all of us quite a jolt.

Vernon MacDonald from Watervalley visited us on his way back from his trip to the Yukon.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to all the friends and family for their visits to Dad at the Royal Alexandra Hospital. Thanks also for the flowers and cards, food, donations to the Ferguson Flats Cemetery Fund and the Cancer Fund, to the ladies of the community for serving lunch at the Ferguson Flats Community Hall, and to Rev. Sam Donaldson, the RCMP and Park Dale Funeral Home.
